Hello,

The New Alsace Conservation Club each year raises funds to send children, in the 5th or 6th grade, to the Karl E. Kelly Conservation Youth Camp. This year we have extra openings available, so we are soliciting children from our area schools in hope to get more children interested in the outdoors.

The camp is organized and ran by the Indiana Conservation Officers Organization - ICOO. They are an organization of self guidance. Their website is www.icoo.com where more on the camp can be found .

It is their belief that it is vital to educate young people about the importance of natural resources. They believe also that as the only state law enforcement agency directly responsible for protecting these resources and being also mandated to offer and administer the Outdoor Education courses in Indiana, teaching the concept of enjoying these resources in a safe and responsible manner is a natural extension of our law enforcement duties.

To provide a summer camp program that will educate youth about conservation of natural resources by:

- ^ Offering certification in the Outdoor Education programs of the DNR Law Enforcement Division.
- ^ Introducing campers to outdoor life sports which will teach appreciation for natural resources and cultivate respect for the Indiana Conservation Officers that protect those resources.

Each camper will take part in or have access to the following:

- ^ Certification in Boater education
- ^ Range Day (firearms, bows, tomahawks, etc.)
- ^ Water day at Raccoon Lake with the DNR SCUBA team, canoe safety class, air boat and jet ski rides
- ^ Canoe Trip down the Sugar Creek
- ^ 7 day/6 night overnight Camp running from June 20th through June 26th, 2021 at Ross Camp.

This camp experience is open to any boy or girl that has completed the fifth or sixth grade in the preceding school year. Camp fee is $350 per camper and includes all meals, lodging and needed equipment for camp.

The $350 camp fee is covered by the New Alsace Conservation Club for those selected by us. All camp registration must be coordinated with our club secretary Dale Back. Our club has sent over 80 kids to this camp in the past 14 years and highly recommend it to those who have an interest in the outdoors. Feel free to forward or make copies of this letter to send with children for their parents to review and discuss with their child. Parents should contact me or Rob Seig, Camp Chairman no later than February 21st, 2021.
